Here are some holiday safety tips!

- Be careful not to use your range or oven to stay warm. Ranges and ovens are designed for cooking and baking, not for heating your home. Teach your children how to use the range and stove safely.
- Lowering your thermostat a few degrees is still the best way to cut your fuel bill. But, don't turn it down too far if someone in your home (typically the elderly, infants and those in poor health) is a hypothermia risk.
